Delta helps keep the ZSE in the black...

Persistent demand in the top capitalized stock Delta helped the Industrial Index to maintain a northward move that saw it rising a further 0.3% to close at 106.54. The Brewer which put on a hefty 1.60% to $0.7225 was the sole gainer of the day against four losers, saw its weight sustain the mainstream Index in the black. Offsetting the day's gains were losses in the three stocks amongst them, Econet which succumbed 1.92% to $0.2500, Natfoods which dropped 0.48% to $2.0900 and Old Mutual that reversed its gains by 0.1% to settle at $2.2000. Topping the shakers was Turnall that retreated 8.33% to close the session at $0.0110. The Mining Index was flat at 20pts for the 3rd consecutive time with a year to date loss of -15.68%.

Today's activity aggregates slightly declined on yesterday with volumes dipping 17.88% to 1.3m shares while, values dropped 21.69% to $0.63m. Delta led in driving both aggregates with a contribution of 46.86% in volume and 69.73% on the value outturn. The other notable trade was in Natfoods which anchored 16.54% of the day's turnover. Foreign participation was the mainstay of the day with all cash flows improved on previous levels as the government announced the introduction of bond notes to ease the cash crises. The bond notes are expected to be in circulation in due course. Foreign inflows rose 183.16% to $0.50 m while, outflows grew 238.33% to 0.46m resulting in a positive balance of payments. Foreign interest was seen in Econet and Delta on both the buy and sale sides.
