DELTA and ECONET drag Industrials lower...

It was a slow start to the holiday shortened week with value traded slumping 59.82% to $0.58mn despite volume jumping 115.08% to 9.2mn shares due to low activity in top capitalized stocks. Activity of the day was boosted by the exchange of 7.34mn Zimplow shares traded at a stable price of $0.03 valued at $0.22mn and 565,085 ECONET shares traded at $0.29 worth $0.16mn. Both trades in the anchor stocks were foreign to foreign exchanges. Wednesday activity was also sustained by foreigners as the purchases stood at 70.84% of the value traded while sales were 71.89% of the same aggregate. However, in comparison to last Friday levels external demand was down 69.98% to $0.41mn while supply fell 68.69% to $0.4mn and consistent with the depressed market outturn.

The Industrial Index was down 0.45% to 142.93pts largely on declines in DELTA and ECONET that let go 0.3% to $0.9649 and 3.33% to $0.29 respectively as both gave in to sustained selling pressure. Other accompanying fallers were ZHL which dropped 7.69% to $0.012 and DAWN that eased 1.25% to $0.0158. However, the benchmark index's retreat was minimized by advances in SEEDCO (0.24% to $1.0375), MEIKLES (0.20% to $0.10) and OLD MUTUAL (0.09% to $2.7550). There was no activity in resources stocks with the Index unchanged at 39.36pts. The ZSE recorded a negative breath of 1 as a result of the above mentioned movements from 16 active stocks in which 9 traded at their previous levels. Meikles continued to strengthen on growing demand amid reports that it is scouting for investors on its phased $100mn investment in gold mining operations in Matabeleland.
