ZSE Industrials stumble in tepid Thursday trades...

The ZSE industrials stumbled in Thursday trades, breaking the ongoing week's rising momentum after the benchmark shed a marginal 0.02% to 138.75pts while, its less active resources counterpart was stable at 59.63pts. The market movement comes in the wake of a fairly slow trading session which saw thirteen actives out of a possible sixty nine. A total of thirty nine trades were registered and yielded $0.32m in spend having shed 79.7% on yesterday's outcome. Volumes of the day were similarly depressed shedding 92.2% on yesterday as they closed the session at 773,817 shares. Delta was the market's most liquid stock after shoring 37% of the day's aggregate spend while, Econet drove the volume aggregate with a 45% contribution to the total. Foreign play was heavily subdued with inflows at $4,401 being down 87% while, outflows at $14763 shed 98% on previous day outcome.

The market exhibited a bullish perspective despite the marginal decline in the benchmark index, as highlighted by the positive breadth that prevailed after seven counters ticked up against two fallers for the day. The weighty fallers' duo that tipped the market into the red was led by retail group OKZIM which shed a hefty 7.58% to leave it pegged at $0.0610 as Simbisa followed after shedding 0.58% and ended pegged at $0.1700. Headlining the risers set was conglomerate Meikles whose stock has been on the rise since a cautionary notice to shareholders on possible offer to minorities, the group added 6.57% and settled at $0.1200. Hippo added 2.2% and closed at $0.3900. Colcom and PPC firmed 2% and 0.8% to end at $0.3725 and $0.6300. The heavy cap trio of Econet OML and Natfoods completed the day's risers set with respective gains of 0.2500%, 0.2400% and 0.0049%.
